County Superintendent Fails to Any Unemployed Teachers in Grundy and Livingston

The last drive is on to fill the vacant school positions in Nodaway county. Bert Cooper, county superintendent, returned to Maryville this morning from a trip to teachers meetings in Gruny and Livingston counties and immediately set to work to get everything in shape for the opening of school next Monday. His office was a busy place this morning, with five teachers-to-be taking special examinations to win their county permits to teach. They wil be at work all day, circus or no circus.

Three county high schools are still short of teachers. Quitman needs a principal with five hours of college credits in agriculture, history, English and mathematics. The salary offered is $100 a month. Parnell high school needs a Latin teacher at $85 or $90. Barnar dis after someone to teach history and mathematics at $85 or $90.

Ten or twelve vacancies still remain in the rural schools of the county.

While in Grundy and Livingston counties Superintendent Cooper tried to find applicants for the positions here, but the schools there are having the same difficulties.

At Trenton Thursday, Mr. Cooper put the teachers through a half day of vitalized agriculture work. Part of Friday morning he continued this program. Then he spoke to the school board members on the improvement of rural schools. Then he drove to Chillicothe and put the teachers there through the vitalized agriculture work also.

If a Fire and an Arrest Happened at the Same Time, What Would Claude Stultz Do?

Claude Stultz of Maryville is a man of versatility. He has to be to hold him many positions. Next Monday, September 1, will be Labor Day, a legal holiday in some states. It is observed in Missouri mostly by the labor unions in the cities. It seldom affects Maryville, except through the postoffice, which shuts down for part of the day.

A parade held in New York in 1882 by the Knights of Labor was the first step toward the establishment of a legal holiday later to be known as Labor Day. Following a resolution passed in 1884 by the same organization to hold all celebrations on that day, working to demand that it be made a legal holiday. Colorado passed the first law to that effect in 1887, and her example was closely followed by New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts.

At Last a Marriage License!

It's a long time between marriage licenses in Nodaway county these days, and when a deadlock is broken it takes an Iowa couple to do it. CITY WATER IS TURNED OFF FOR THIRD TIME IN A WREK

Pump at Station Crippled Again—Bids Will Be Opened for Contract Next Tuesday.

For the third time within the week the city water was turned off again late yesterday. From 5 o'clock in the afternoon until 10 o'clock the housewives the city over and the people generally had to suffer the inconvenience of having no water on tap.

The crippled pump at the water station is becoming a chronic trouble maker for Mayor W. O. Garrett and Bert Hollenbeck, city engineer. There is little relief in sight from spasmodic water service until the old plant is rebuilt.

Bids will be opened for the contract for this work next Tuesday when the city commissioners meet in regular monthly session. Immediately after the contract is let, work will be started in hopes of completion before cold weather sets in.

The White way was dark for a short time last night ,due to the fact that the water was turned off. Droughts in the city water mains effect the light and powed plant because of the use of steam driven machinery to drive the dynamo.

The vigilance of the local authorities i nthe matter of watching out for stolen cars was proven yesterday when Deupty Lee Atherton held a suspicious looking car for several hours while the owner, who turned out to b ea wealthy land buyer, proved his title to his property.

A party of four drove into town in a Ford yesterday and put up at a local garage. In the party were W. J. Corrigan, his brother, Joe Corrigan, his son, Earl Corrigan, all from Yanktown S. Dak., and a Mr. Clodfelter from Onawa, Iowa. W. J. Corrigan, who owns more than $60,000 worth of land here, was here on a land buying trip.

The ownership of the car was settled satisfactorily later in the day. In fact, the owned agreed to let the local authorities keep the Ford until such time as they were satisfied as to hi stitle to the property and he and his friends would return on the train. This was found unnecessary. The party left for home lats night.

TUBERCULOSIS LOSS GREATER THAN THAT FROM THE WAR

Three Times as Many Deaths in Same Period—Association Will Sell Christmas Seals

That the United States faced a greater loss from an invisible enemy than she did from her war activities overseas is shown in an announcement just issued by the National Tuberculosis Association headquarters, following a country-wide health survey.

Total American deaths in the world war amounted to 67,882 soldiers, sailors and marines. Figures just tabulated at headquarters of the National Tuberculosis Association show that for the period in which this country was engaged in war approximately 200,000 persons died from tuberculosis.

"Much of the numerous death toll in this country could be prevented," said Dr. Victor C. Vaughn, president of the National Tuberculosis Association, who will sponsor the Red Cross Christmas seal sale. "Our data received from health experts throughout the United States show more than a million persons are suffering from the white plague today."

More than 1,500 state and city anti-tuberculosis leagues and associations join the national organization in its country-wide crusade, which will culminate in the Red Cross Christmas seal sale, from which funds to carry on the work are chiefly derived. It is estimated that $6,500,000 will be needed to carry out the program planned.

WANTS THE WHOLE WORLD TO KNOW

Missouri Woman Doing Her Part to Let Others Know What Tanlac Will Do

"My eight years search for a medicine or a treatment that would overcome my troubles never met with any success until I commenced taking Tanlac," said Mrs. A. B. Cosseboon, who lives at 425 Independence avenue, Kansas City, Mo., while talking with a Tanlac representative the other day.

"My kidneys and stomach were both in very bad condition," she continued, and it is hard to say which of these troubles caused me the most misery. The awful pains in my back, and the terrible, raging headaches I had would almost drive me wild, and if I stooped over for anything it was impossible for me to straighten up without assistance. Then I would have severe pains on account of my food not digesting properly, and forming into what seemed to be a lump in the pit of my stomach. I was also bothered a great deal on account of my limbs getting numb, or going to sleep, and would often have to rub them with alcohol before I could get any relief. Finally my nerves got in very bad condition, and I was not able to sleep very well, and I just got so weak and run-down that it would exhaust me completely to do any part of my housework.

"After reading so much about Tanlac in the Kansas City papers, I decided to make one more effort and give Tanlac a trial, and let me tell you, that was the wisest decision I ever made in my life. It seems almost too good to be true, but I am now as well and happy is I ever was in my life. Why, the change in my condition is so wonderful that everybody who knows me is talking about it, and I always take a perfect delight in telling them that Tanlac is responsible for it all. My kidneys seem to be in perfect condition now, and I am entirely free from those pains in my back, and I haven't had one of those raging headaches sice I finished my first bottle of Tanlac, and I eat just anything I want and my food digests perfectly The numbness and pains in my limbs have disappeared and I am so completely rid of nervousness that I sleep like a child every night. My strength and energy have come back to me, and I can do all my housework without the least trouble. In fact, Tanlac has made me a well strong woman again, and I just want the world to know what a great medicine Tanlac is, and I am glad to recommend it to everybody."

"Tanlac is sold in Maryville by Koch Pharmacy, in Conception Junction by A. M. Colly, in Pickering by H. M. Lincoln, in Burlington Junction by Carter Pharmacy, in Barnard by Bear Drug Co., in Elmo by King Drug Co., in Clearmont by Dr. W. H. Wiley, in Ravenwood by C. A. Shunk, in Arkoe by Rufus R. Smith, and in Hopkins by Hopkins Drug Co." ADV.

NEWS FROM NODAWAY COUNTY TOWNS

Conception Courier.

Mesdames J. F. Pfeifer and G. S. Parrott are the recipients of very handsome medals of recognition of the Red Cross work done by them. Both of these ladies devoted 800 hours to the Red Cross work and are naturally very proud of the beautiful tokens given them for their faithful work performed for the boys over there. We understand that these ladies are the only two who are in receipt of medals in Jefferson township.

Mrs. M. L. DeVall and little daughter, Ruth Margaret, left Tuesday for an extended visit with relatives at Salt Lake City, Utah, and other western points.

The public school will be opened for an eight months term next Monday, September 1, and marks a new era in public school work in this city. The ninth and possibly tenth grades will be taken up which will, no doubt, attract many new students here. The corps of teachers, E. H. White, principal, Miss Doris Elliot, intermediate, andMiss Mabel Merrigan, primary department, will be in charge. The first two came to us well recommended and will no doubt make good. Miss Merrigan, who has had charge of the primary department for the past four or five years, has proven a very successful teacher in this department and most likely will prove as satisfactory as heretofore.

W. J. Anderson has opened up a new lunch counter in the room adjoining George Pfeifer building, on the east side of Main street.

The Holy Family school opens Monday, September 1. Sister M. Hyacinth will teach the higher grades, whereas Sister M. Martina will have charge of the lower grades.

Word was received here Saturday morning that Earl Sage, a conductor on the C. G. W., had been quite badly hurt by being thrown from the caboose of the train while entering the yards at St. Joseph. As near as can be learned the train, a double header, was pulling into the yards when a switch engine pulled across the track and in order to avoid striking it the engineer applied the brakes, causing the slack in the train to come together with a crash, thereby causing the accident to occur. Mr. Sage was a resident of this town for a number of years and his many friends here hope for his speedy recovery.

Elmo Register.

Tom Meeker and Marion Livengood of Okfuskee, Okla., came in Monday night for a visit here with relatives and friends. Tom and Marion both formerly lived here, but have been in Oklahoma for several years, this being Tom's first visit in fifteen years.

Ray Barker and wife of Grainfield, Kansas, came for a visit this week with relatives. He is station agent for the U. P. railroad at Grainfield. They visited, before coming here, the family of T. F. Imel at Hale, Mo., and his mother, Mrs. J. W. Smith, at Maryville.

Mr. and Mrs. Platt Colvin and Mr. and Mrs. Will Buckner will leave this coming Sunday for a trip to Colorado and points in the west. They will go in Mr. Colvin's car and will be fixed for camping out. They expect to be gone three weeks, and A. G. Castillo will have charge of the hardware store during their absence.

Relatives took "Ted", son of T. B. Adkins, to the hospital at Maryville Tuesday night for an operation for appendicitis.

Dr. and Mrs. Neely left Sunday morning for Chicago, where Dr. Neely will take a post-graduate course in medicine.

The Elmo school building is ready for school which begins Monday, and is in fine condition, all except the seats for the high school room have not arrived at this writing—Wednesday—and some additional blackboard. The seats and blackboard are expected soon, and will be put into position at once.

Oscar Abbott and Will Colwell have bought the Horn & Dougherty garage and are in possession. The deal was made last week, and included the tools and accessories, but did not include the building. We did not learn what Messrs. Horn and Dougherty will do.

Hopkins Journal.

Our little city will be well represented at the various colleges and universities durnig the coming school year. Misses Rose McMaster, Lela Robbins, Esther Bebout and Lawrence Conway will attend the state university at Columbia; Misses Lela Ulmer and Maude Fleming will attend the Normal at Maryville; Miss Marjorie Sayler goes to the Woman's College at Jacksonville, Ill., while Miss Ida Landon will continue her course at Cornell.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Wolfers, Sr., returned last week from an extended visit with their daughter, Mrs. Robert Wolfers, in New York, the major portion of the time being spent at the summer home of the daughter on Shelter Island, within a stone's throw of Long Island bay. The island is covered with beautiful summer homes and is also covered with oil, similar to what has been applied to Hopkins streets, and the roadways of the island, Mr. Wolfers said, are always ideal.

Ed Woolridge of Hugo, Colo., arrived here last week for a short visit in the home of his brother, Fred, the clothier, and with old friends, driving through in his eight-cylinder Cadillac, first stopping in Maryville, where he left his daughter, Mary, who had ben visiting him and who made the trip from Hugo with him in the car. Ed is now owner of the leading garage of Hugo and is also vice president of one of the banks. He also owns several big tracts of western land. By GEORGE R. HOLMES.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

En route with the Prince of Wales, Aug. 29.—It's a tough game, this being a prince. Believe it or not as you choose. But it is.

You are handicapped at the start with any numebr of names—that is, any large number. The Prince of Wales, who is now touring Canada and, who, in November, will be the guest of President Wilson at the White House, answers to seven names, eight titles, and has eight letters after his name. And his full title ends up with "etc., etc.," showing that some one had a kind heart. Imagine having to answer to this:

"Your Royal Highness. Edward Albert, Christian George Andrew Patrick David, Prince of Wales, Earl of Chester, Duke of Cornwall, Duke of Rothesay, Earl of Carrick, Baron of Renfrew, Lord of Isles, Great Steward of Scotland, K. G., G. M. M. G., etc., etc."

And after imagining yourself with that kind of a name, imagine having to stand and appear interested several tiems every day while solemn-visaged gentlemen address you by it all of 'em before they even start to say what they have to say.

Everybody Watches You.

And all the time you are under the critical eyes of thousands of persons who note your every move and quite probably will take your slightest gesture and mannerism as a criterion for their own habits. Add to all this not very many years in age, a natural desire to shun ostentation and a realization of an immense responsibility and you have but a minute conception of the present situation of Edward Albert, Christian George, etc.

For nearly three months the Prince will tour Canada. He will never be in one place longer than five days, covering almost ten thousand miles and meeting thousands of persons. He will pay royal visits to fifty-two Canadian cities.

Every day is mapped out already; mapped out down to the most minute detail!

One of the average days is something like this:

And Then the Reception!

Be met at 10 a. m. by a municipal and provincial reception committee, all in frock coats, shiny silk hats and long faces, trembling at their own responsibility and nervous for fear something may go wrong and give the place a royal black eye, so to speak.

There is a guard of honor and a band. The band plays the National Anthem as the Prince appears. He stops and stands rigidly at salute until it closes. General handshaking follows. Then he inspects the guard, a ceremonial inspection which is quite useless from a utilitarian standpoint, because the guard always is shined, spicked and panned as it never was.

There is a great crowd around shouting:

"There he is."

"Looks like a kid, doesn't he?"

"Gee, he's a little guy."

"Nice-looking kid, ain't he?"

The last usually comes from the feminine element of the crowd.

Then on to the City Hall!

Then into a car and a long procession to the Provincial House or Government House, which corresponds to an American city hall. There in a solemn row with every eye in the place on him, he listens to two addresses of welcome, read by officials whose voices invariably tremble a bit. He receives the addresses in parchment as soon as the reading is finished turns to Sir Lionel Halsey, his Chief of Staff, who never leaves his side, and receives from him the reply to the civic addresses, which he reads.

These replies are always written beforehand. If the names of places were changed in them one copy would serve all the way through. More handshaking. To the cars again. Visit a hospital, where dozens of wounded soldiers are recuperating from wounds received overseas. Drive about the city, decorate some soldiers and inspect them. Lunch and more speaking, long ceremonial speeches. Same stereotyped style.

Always Something to Do.

Perhaps visit another hospital. Sometimes it's laying a cornerstone. Maybe dedicating some building. Occasionally unveiling a monument to those who fell in the war. By that hour it's usually time for a public reception at the Government House. Shake hands with hundreds of people, more often the number is thousands.

Then a state dinner. More speeches and more ceremony.

And do the same all over the next day, and the next, and every one for the next six or eight weeks.

Once in a while there is a break in the formality, in the solemnity of it all. And the Prince hugely enjoys it when it comes.

One Place He Wasn't Bored.

A few days ago he paid a visit to a certain famous outdoor club. He was received under the trees informally, and the president of the club made a few remarks.

"I hope," he said in conclusion, "that your Royal Highness will tell the King when you return to England that you attended at least one function in Canada at which you were not bored stiff."

The Prince laughed heartily. "I will," he replied, "and I'll tell him, too, that the club is still going strong."

Then everyone sang, "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," and drank a toast to the royal heir's health. The Prince drank a couple of goblets himself, then he regretfully left to lay another cornerstone.

Circus Day Today.

Next to Amistice day, Circus day is the most gala of gala occisions. The big Yankee Robinson Circus came to town this morning via the Wabash just as advertised and according to circus traditions, came down the streets with bands playing and banners waving and beautiful ladies on gayly caperized steeds and funny clowns and cages full of all kinds of wild animals of jungle and plain and ponderous elephants and shuffling camels and three separate and distinct bands that smashed musical rainbows over the roofs of our beloved city and so many things that it be impossible to mention them all.

A large throng viewed the street pageant and it is conventional to say that the circus is bigger and better than ever this year, but really every season Yankee Robinson comes back they seem to have grown and expanded. The morning parade was all that could be desired,—everything being spick and span, all cages and wagons being resplendant in gilt and every color of the rainbow, while many features new to the conventional circus parade lent novelty to the spectacle.

The evening performance will commence at 8 o'clock, but the doors will be open one hour earlier in order to accomodate those who wish to visit the managerie and listen to the concert given by the Henry Wingert Band.

Would Sell Eggs by Weight.

Jefferson City, Mo., Aug. 30—"Eggs by weight" is a sure method by which the producer of good quality would get what he deserves for his product, so says Director T. W. Noland of the State Poultry Experiment Station at Mountain Gorve, Missouri. Live stock, grain and vegetables sell by weight. There is no legitimate reason why eggs of standard weight should not sell for a higher price than eggs under size. When poultrymen know that a dozen eggs, weighing 26 ounces or 28 ounces, will bring more money on the market than the same number of smaller ones they will pay more attention to the feeding, housing and culling of their flocks, and will seek still more eranestly to produce and market first class sized eggs in first class condition.

"Cake and Beer, and Washing Here"

Before a ramshackls house in a little England Village there used to hang this sign:

"Hiram, the widow's son, I hope,
"Can furnish customers with soap,
"Such as will make the washing day
"Pass off as pleasant, e'en as May.
"Cakes, and beer, and washing here."

Hiram had the right idea. He knew that there were people who wanted what he had to sell. The difference between Hiram and the modern advertiser is that the former had to trust to somebody passing to see his sign. He could not bring his sign to everybody.

The modern advertiser with something to sell that he feels you want, saves you the trouble of going to his place to see about it. Readers of advertisements visit all the advertisers at a single sitting.

This is a service that those who advertise are rendering you, just as the clerks they hire, the deliveries they make, are service. They are saving your time, energy and money by bringing their establishments to you through the advertisements.

Read the advertisements with this thought in mind.

SEVERAL SCHOOLS STILL UNFILLED

WORK STARTS [illegible]

County Superintendent Fails to Any Unemployed Teachers in Grundy and Livingston

The last drive is on to fill the vacant school positions in Nodaway county. Bert Cooper, county superintendent, returned to Maryville this morning from a trip to teachers meetings in Gruny and Livingston counties and immediately set to work to get everything in shape for the opening of school next Monday. His office was a busy place this morning, with five teachers-to-be taking special examinations to win their county permits to teach. They will be at work all day, circus or no circus.

Three county high schools are still short of teachers. Quitman needs a principal with five hours of college credits in agriculture, history, English and mathematics. The salary offered is $100 a month. Parnell high school needs a Latin teacher at $85 or $90. Barnar dis after someone to teach history and mathematics at $85 or $90.

Ten or twelve vacancies still remain in the rural schools of the county.

While in Grundy and Livingston counties Superintendent Cooper tried to find applicants for the positions here, but the schools there are having the same difficulties.

At Trenton Thursday, Mr. Cooper put the teachers through a half day of vitalized agriculture work. Part of Friday morning he continued this program. Then he spoke to the school board members on the improvement of rural schools. Then he drove to Chillicothe and put the teachers there through the vitalized agriculture work also.

HE'S BUSIEST MAN IN TOWN WHEN HE WORKS AT HIS JOB

If a Fire and an Arrest Happened at the Same Time, What Would Claude Stultz Do?

Claude Stultz of Maryville is a man of versatility. He has to be to hold him many positions. If he were called upon to perform all his duties mentioned in his contract with the city in a short time he would be employed in the following manner: Answer the fire alarm; don a fireman's garb and drive the fire truck to the scene of the fire; return from the fire; pin on a policeman's badge and make an arrest; having performed his duty as an officer of the law he would put on a white collar, walk over to the city hall and act in the capacity of city collector of taxes; to round out the day he would then instal a few water meters and return to the fire station to await a night call to his first named duty.

NEXT MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, LABOR DAY, HOLIDAY FOR SOME

The Maryville postoffice will have its general delivery window open only from 11:30 a. m. to 12:15 p. m. Monday, which is Labor Day. The lobby will be open all day, however, as usual. No rural deliveries will be made.

Next Monday, September 1, will be Labor Day, a legal holiday in some states. It is observed in Missouri mostly by the labor unions in the cities. It seldom affects Maryville, except through the postoffice, which shuts down for part of the day.

A parade held in New York in 1882 by the Knights of Labor was the first step toward the establishment of a legal holiday later to be known as Labor Day. Following a resolution passed in 1884 by the same organization to hold all celebrations on that day, working to demand that it be made a legal holiday. Colorado passed the first law to that effect in 1887, and her example was closely followed by New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts.

At Last a Marriage License!

It's a long time between marriage licenses in Nodaway county these days, and when a deadlock is broken it takes an Iowa couple to do it. Kirt Cooper and Miss Ida Hastings, both of Creston, took out late yesterday afternoon the first license that has been issued since August 19. They were married by Justice W. L. Johnson.

Donald Williams returned last night from Wahoo, Neb., where he has been visiting his brother, Harold Walker.

CITY WATER IS TURNED OFF FOR THIRD TIME IN A WREK

Pump at Station Crippled Again—Bids Will Be Opened for Contract Next Tuesday.

For the third time within the week the city water was turned off again late yesterday. From 5 o'clock in the afternoon until 10 o'clock the housewives the city over and the people generally had to suffer the inconvenience of having no water on tap.

The crippled pump at the water station is becoming a chronic trouble maker for Mayor W. O. Garrett and Bert Hollenbeck, city engineer. There is little relief in sight from spasmodic water service until the old plant is rebuilt.

Bids will be opened for the contract for this work next Tuesday when the city commissioners meet in regular monthly session. Immediately after the contract is let, work will be started in hopes of completion before cold weather sets in.

The White way was dark for a short time last night ,due to the fact that the water was turned off. Droughts in the city water mains effect the light and powed plant because of the use of steam driven machinery to drive the dynamo.

Railroad Men to Work — Wilson Thanks Hoboken Strikers for Acceding to His Bequest

Washington, Aug. 30.—The eyes of the steel world are turned toward President Wilson today on the possibility of the president taking action to prevent the threatened tie-up of industry. The presient had before him the request of Samuel Gompers that he urge Judge Gary to give the men a hearing, but up to the present there is no indication as what his action will be.

ONE MORE AUTO DISAPPEARS; ELMO MAN LOSER THIS TIME

No Alarm Given as W. P. Lamb's Ford Leaves—Deputy Holds Suspicious Car a Day

Some time between 12 o'clock last night and 5 o'clock this morning the Ford touring car of W. P. Lamb, a farmer living just eats of Elmo, disappeared from its garage, without any alarm being given. Mr. Lamb put it in the shed about 11 o'clock, after returning from Elmo; his brother saw it when he came in about 12, and this morning it was gone.

Mr. Lamb traced tracks of the car fro mhis farm apparently going in the direction of Burlington Junction. A cousin of his living in that direction heard a car pass about 4 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Lamb was in Maryville today, putting Sheriff John Dowden on the trail.

The vigilance of the local authorities i nthe matter of watching out for stolen cars was proven yesterday when Deupty Lee Atherton held a suspicious looking car for several hours while the owner, who turned out to b ea wealthy land buyer, proved his title to his property.

A party of four drove into town in a Ford yesterday and put up at a local garage. In the party were W. J. Corrigan, his brother, Joe Corrigan, his son, Earl Corrigan, all from Yanktown S. Dak., and a Mr. Clodfelter from Onawa, Iowa. W. J. Corrigan, who owns more than $60,000 worth of land here, was here on a land buying trip.

Shortly after their arrival, he went with Henry Thorpe and J. W. Herndon out into the country to look at some farms. His son Earl and brother Joe remained in town with the car. While the latter were eating dinner the car fell under suspicion and was held by the local authorities.

The ownership of the car was settled satisfactorily later in the day. In fact, the owned agreed to let the local authorities keep the Ford until such time as they were satisfied as to hi stitle to the property and he and his friends would return on the train. This was found unnecessary. The party left for home lats night.

George C. Carothers, Once Reported Killed, Is Guest of Dr. and Mrs. Will Wallis

Dr. and Mrs. Will Wallis entertained at lunch at the Linville hotel today George C. Carothers of New York City. Mr. Carothers enjoys the distinction of having served as an American consular agent representing the State Department in Mexico for thirty years.

Some four years ago the newspapers reported that Mr. Carothers had been killed by orders of General Villa. While he was sitting in General Villa's car, telegrams from the Associated Press and other newspaper syndicates came questioning concerning his death. Mr. Carothers turned to Villa and asked the general whether he looked like a dead man. Villa's answer indicated that some political enemy had been at work.

Mr. Carothers is not at the present time acting in a consular capacity.

Dr. and Mrs. Wallis became acquainted with Mr. Carothers about a year ago while visiting in New York. Mr. Carothers will spend several days in Maryville as the guest of the Wallis family.

Washington, Aug. 30.—Quoting from a speech of Senator Lodge, delivered in 1915, Senator Owen replied to the most recent attack of the chairman of the foreign relations committee upon the peace treaty and the League of Nations covenant. The galleries always applaud when a senator strikes oratorical pose and thunders forth sturdy Amerianism, and the Massachusetts senator did not fail to strike the popular chord, the Oklahoman declares.

Maryville Department Makes Run to Old Bovard Farm and Helps Save Buildings

Sparks from a gasoline engine on the Roy Dodge farm, formerly the Bovard farm, west of town, set the bailed hay afire as a baler was at work this afternoon.

Twenty-five or thirty bales of hay and the baler, a brand new one, were burned. The baler was the property of Tartley brothers. The city fire department went to the scene of the fire, but was not able to do much, as the hay burned quickly. Water was thrown on the buildings standing close by, preventing their catching fire.

TUBERCULOSIS LOSS GREATER THAN THAT FROM THE WAR

Three Times as Many Deaths in Same Period—Association Will Sell Christmas Seals

That the United States faced a greater loss from an invisible enemy than she did from her war activities overseas is shown in an announcement just issued by the National Tuberculosis Association headquarters, following a country-wide health survey.

Total American deaths in the world war amounted to 67,882 soldiers, sailors and marines. Figures just tabulated at headquarters of the National Tuberculosis Association show that for the period in which this country was engaged in war approximately 200,000 persons died from tuberculosis.

"Much of the numerous death toll in this country could be prevented," said Dr. Victor C. Vaughn, president of the National Tuberculosis Association, who will sponsor the Red Cross Christmas seal sale. "Our data received from health experts throughout the United States show more than a million persons are suffering from the white plague today."

More than 1,500 state and city anti-tuberculosis leagues and associations join the national organization in its country-wide crusade, which will culminate in the Red Cross Christmas seal sale, from which funds to carry on the work are chiefly derived. It is estimated that $6,500,000 will be needed to carry out the program planned.

WANTS THE WHOLE WORLD TO KNOW

Missouri Woman Doing Her Part to Let Others Know What Tanlac Will Do

"My eight years search for a medicine or a treatment that would overcome my troubles never met with any success until I commenced taking Tanlac," said Mrs. A. B. Cosseboon, who lives at 425 Independence avenue, Kansas City, Mo., while talking with a Tanlac representative the other day.

"My kidneys and stomach were both in very bad condition," she continued, and it is hard to say which of these troubles caused me the most misery. The awful pains in my back, and the terrible, raging headaches I had would almost drive me wild, and if I stooped over for anything it was impossible for me to straighten up without assistance. Then I would have severe pains on account of my food not digesting properly, and forming into what seemed to be a lump in the pit of my stomach. I was also bothered a great deal on account of my limbs getting numb, or going to sleep, and would often have to rub them with alcohol before I could get any relief. Finally my nerves got in very bad condition, and I was not able to sleep very well, and I just got so weak and run-down that it would exhaust me completely to do any part of my housework.

"After reading so much about Tanlac in the Kansas City papers, I decided to make one more effort and give Tanlac a trial, and let me tell you, that was the wisest decision I ever made in my life. It seems almost too good to be true, but I am now as well and happy is I ever was in my life. Why, the change in my condition is so wonderful that everybody who knows me is talking about it, and I always take a perfect delight in telling them that Tanlac is responsible for it all. My kidneys seem to be in perfect condition now, and I am entirely free from those pains in my back, and I haven't had one of those raging headaches sice I finished my first bottle of Tanlac, and I eat just anything I want and my food digests perfectly. The numbness and pains in my limbs have disappeared and I am so completely rid of nervousness that I sleep like a child every night. My strength and energy have come back to me, and I can do all my housework without the least trouble. In fact, Tanlac has made me a well strong woman again, and I just want the world to know what a great medicine Tanlac is, and I am glad to recommend it to everybody."

Tanlac is sold in Maryville by Koch Pharmacy, in Conception Junction by A. M. Colly, in Pickering by H. M. Lincoln, in Burlington Junction by Carter Pharmacy, in Barnard by Bear Drug Co., in Elmo by King Drug Co., in Clearmont by Dr. W. H. Wiley, in Ravenwood by C. A. Shunk, in Arkoe by Rufus R. Smith, and in Hopkins by Hopkins Drug Co." ADV.

NEWS FROM

NODAWAY COUNTY TOWNS

Conception Courier.

Mesdames J. F. Pfeifer and G. S. Parrott are the recipients of very handsome medals of recognition of the Red Cross work done by them. Both of these ladies devoted 800 hours to the Red Cross work and are naturally very proud of the beautiful tokens given them for their faithful work performed for the boys over there. We understand that these ladies are the only two who are in receipt of medals in Jefferson township.

Mrs. M. L. DeVall and little daughter, Ruth Margaret, left Tuesday for an extended visit with relatives at Salt Lake City, Utah, and other western points.

The public school will be opened for an eight months term next Monday, September 1, and marks a new era in public school work in this city. The ninth and possibly tenth grades will be taken up which will, no doubt, attract many new students here. The corps of teachers, E. H. White, principal, Miss Doris Elliot, intermediate, andMiss Mabel Merrigan, primary department, will be in charge. The first two came to us well recommended and will no doubt make good. Miss Merrigan, who has had charge of the primary department for the past four or five years, has proven a very successful teacher in this department and most likely will prove as satisfactory as heretofore.

W. J. Anderson has opened up a new lunch counter in the room adjoining George Pfeifer building, on the east side of Main street.

The Holy Family school opens Monday, September 1. Sister M. Hyacinth will teach the higher grades, whereas Sister M. Martina will have charge of the lower grades.

Word was received here Saturday morning that Earl Sage, a conductor on the C. G. W., had been quite badly hurt by being thrown from the caboose of the train while entering the yards at St. Joseph. As near as can be learned the train, a double header, was pulling into the yards when a switch engine pulled across the track and in order to avoid striking it the engineer applied the brakes, causing the slack in the train to come together with a crash, thereby causing the accident to occur. Mr. Sage was a resident of this town for a number of years and his many friends here hope for his speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Platt Colvin and Mr. and Mrs. Will Buckner will leave this coming Sunday for a trip to Colorado and points in the west. Oscar Abbott and Will Colwell have bought the Horn & Dougherty garage and are in possession. The deal was made last week, and included the tools and accessories, but did not include the building. We did not learn what Messrs. Horn and Dougherty will do.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Wolfers, Sr., returned last week from an extended visit with their daughter, Mrs. Robert Wolfers, in New York, the major portion of the time being spent at the summer home of the daughter on Shelter Island, within a stone's throw of Long Island bay. The island is covered with beautiful summer homes and is also covered with oil, similar to what has been applied to Hopkins streets, and the roadways of the island, Mr. Wolfers said, are always ideal.

Ed Woolridge of Hugo, Colo., arrived here last week for a short visit in the home of his brother, Fred, the clothier, and with old friends, driving through in his eight-cylinder Cadillac, first stopping in Maryville, where he left his daughter, Mary, who had ben visiting him and who made the trip from Hugo with him in the car. Ed is now owner of the leading gar ge of Hugo and is also vice president of one of the banks. He also owns several big tracts of western land. Very few of our citizens remmeber or even know that at one time Hopkins had a banking house conducted by G. S. Plants & Co., these men conducting the first bank after the birth of this city. E. C. Wolfers, Sr., showed us a receipt last Monday that was issued by this company in 1872, forty-seven years ago.

Last week Earl Olmstead traded the 120-acre farm he recently bought of Haaf and Robbins at $145 an acre to Dewitt and Jeffers for the Saints garage, putting the land in at $170 an acre and taking the garage at $4,000, Earl also getting a new Buick Six in the deal. He then sold the garage to Frank Andrews for $2,500, Frank now being in charge of the business. Wm. Grammer, Frank Litsch and Glausus Luce will remain with the new firm, Emmett Wilder retiring, as he expects to go on a farm in the spring. The deals were made by the Sam Robbins agency.

Mr. Overmier, our station agent, who went south week before last in response to a telegram that a son had been drowned in Florida, was injured at Jacksonville when a street car struck him as he was crossing a street in that city. Late word says he was not seriously hurt and also states that the body of his son has not as yet ben recovered.

Rev. Mr. Carriker, the new Presbyterian minister, now drives a runabout, buying the Overland formerly driven by Mayor Donlin. The minister is young and single, smart and good looking, so this item should be of more than ordinary interest.

Everett Gray had quite an accident Friday afternoon while going home from town. He had his little child with him in his auto, and while passing over the high fill at the culbert west of Herbert Knoble's, he lost control of the car in some way and it plunged off the grade into the ditch, turning upside down. He and the child were both thrown under the car but by almost a miracle they escaped without serious injury but were badly bruised and scratched.

A dance and social evening in planned and refreshments of some sort will be served. That part is to remain secret, but as "Carp" is furnishing that, it is sure to be something worth serving. If You Live Like a Prince You Are Busy These Days

Believe It or Not, British Heir, Soon To Be Guest of President Wilson, Wastes no Time in His Daily Schedule While Visiting in Canada.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

En route with the Prince of Wales, Aug. 29.—It's a tough game, this being a prince. Believe it or not as you choose. But it is.

You are handicapped at the start with any numebr of names—that is, any large number. The Prince of Wales, who is now touring Canada and, who, in November, will be the guest of President Wilson at the White House, answers to seven names, eight titles, and has eight letters after his name. And his full title ends up with "etc., etc.," showing that some one had a kind heart. Imagine having to answer to this:

"Your Royal Highness, Edward Albert, Christian George Andrew Patrick David, Prince of Wales, Earl of Chester, Duke of Cornwall, Duke of Rothesay, Earl of Carrick, Baron of Renfrew, Lord of Isles, Great Steward of Scotland, K. G., G. M. M. G., etc., etc."

And after imagining yourself with that kind of a name, imagine having to stand and appear interested several tiems every day while solemn-visaged gentlemen address you by it all of 'em before they even start to say what they have to say.

Everybody Watches You.

And all the time you are under the critical eyes of thousands of persons who note your every move and quite probably will take your slightest gesture and mannerism as a criterion for their own habits. Add to all this not very many years in age, a natural desire to shun ostentation and a realization of an immense responsibility and you have but a minute conception of the present situation of Edward Albert, Christian George, etc.

For nearly three months the Prince will tour Canada. He will never be in one place longer than five days, covering almost ten thousand miles and meeting thousands of persons. He will pay royal visits to fifty-two Canadian cities.

Every day is mapped out already; mapped out down to the most minute detail.

One of the average days is something like this:

And Then the Reception!

Be met at 10 a. m. by a municipal and provincial reception committee, all in frock coats, shiny silk hats and long faces, trembling at their own responsibility and nervous for fear something may go wrong and give the place a royal black eye, so to speak.

There is a guard of honor and a band. The band plays the National Anthem as the Prince appears. He stops and stands rigidly at salute until it closes. General handshaking follows. Then he inspects the guard, a ceremonial inspection which is quite useless from a utilitarian standpoint, because the guard always is shined, spicked and panned as it never was.

There is a great crowd around spouting:

"There he is."

"Looks like a kid, doesn't he?"

"Gee, he's a little guy."

"Nice-looking kid, ain't he?"

The last usually comes from the feminine element of the crowd.

Then on to the City Hall!

Then into a car and a long procession to the Provincial House or Government House, which corresponds to an American city hall. There in a solemn row with every eye in the place on him, he listens to two addresses of welcome, read by officials whose voices invariably tremble a bit. He receives the addresses in parchment as soon as the reading is finished turns to Sir Lionel Halsey, his Chief of Staff, who never leaves his side, and receives from him the reply to the civic addresses, which he reads.

These replies are always written beforehand. If the names of places were changed in them one copy would serve all the way through. More handshaking. To the cars again. Visit a hospital, where dozens of wounded soldiers are recuperating from wounds received overseas. Drive about the city, decorate some soldiers and inspect them. Lunch and more speaking, long ceremonial speeches. Same stereotyped style.

Always Something to Do.

Perhaps visit another hospital. Sometimes it's laying a cornerstone. Maybe dedicating some building. Occasionally unveiling a monument to those who fell in the war. By that hour it's usually time for a public reception at the Government House. Shake hands with hundreds of people, more often the number is thousands.

Then a state dinner. More speeches and more ceremony.

And do the same all over the next day, and the next, and every one for the next six or eight weeks.

Once in a while there is a break in the formality, in the solemnity of it all. And the Prince hugely enjoys it when it comes.

One Place He Wasn't Bored.

A few days ago he paid a visit to a certain famous outdoor club. He was received under the trees informally, and the president of the club made a few remarks.

"I hope," he said in conclusion, "that your Royal Highness will tell the King when you return to England that you attended at least one function in Canada at which you were not bored stiff."

The Prince laughed heartily. "I will," he replied, "and I'll tell him, too, that the club is still going strong."

Then everyone sang, "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," and drank a toast to the royal heir's health. The Prince drank a couple of goblets himself, then he regretfully left to lay another cornerstone.

Circus Day Today.

Next to Amistice day, Circus day is the most gala of gala occisions. The big Yankee Robinson Circus came to town this morning via the Wabash just as advertised and according to circus traditions, came down the streets with bands playing and banners waving and beautiful ladies on gayly caperized steeds and funny clowns and cages full of all kinds of wild animals of jungle and plain and ponderous elephants and shuffling camels and three separate and distinct bands that smashed musical rainbows over the roofs of our beloved city and so many things that it be impossible to mention them all.

A large throng viewed the street pageant and it is conventional to say that the circus is bigger and better than ever this year, but really every season Yankee Robinson comes back they seem to have grown and expanded. The morning parade was all that could be desired,—everything being spick and span, all cages and wagons being resplendant in gilt and every color of the rainbow, while many features new to the conventional circus parade lent novelty to the spectacle.

The evening performance will commence at 8 o'clock, but the doors will be open one hour earlier in order to accomodate those who wish to visit the managerie and listen to the concert given by the Henry Wingert Band.

Would Sell Eggs by Weight.

Jefferson City, Mo., Aug. 30—"Eggs by weight" is a sure method by which the producer of good quality would get what he deserves for his product, so says Director T. W. Noland of the State Poultry Experiment Station at Mountain Gorve, Missouri. Live stock, grain and vegetables sell by weight. There is no legitimate reason why eggs of standard weight should not sell for a higher price than eggs under size. When poultrymen know that a dozen eggs, weighing 26 ounces or 28 ounces, will bring more money on the market than the same number of smaller ones they will pay more attention to the feeding, housing and culling of their flocks, and will seek still more earnestly to produce and market first class sized eggs in first class condition.

"Cake and Beer, and Washing Here"

Before a ramshackls house in a little England Village there used to hang this sign:

"Hiram, the widow's son, I hope,
"Can furnish customers with soap,
"Such as will make the washing day
"Pass off as pleasant, e'en as May.
"Cakes, and beer, and washing here."

Hiram had the right idea. He knew that there were people who wanted what he had to sell. The difference between Hiram and the modern advertiser is that the former had to trust to somebody passing to see his sign. He could not bring his sign to everybody.

The modern advertiser with something to sell that he feels you want, saves you the trouble of going to his place to see about it. Readers of advertisements visit all the advertisers at a single sitting.

This is a service that those who advertise are rendering you, just as the clerks they hire, the deliveries they make, are service. They are saving your time, energy and money by bringing their establishments to you through the advertisements.

Read the advertisements with this thought in mind.
